

PROFESSOR MARIO MANCINI CURRICULUM VITAE

Professor Mario Mancini achieved his medical doctor degree in 1954 at the University Medical School of Naples, Italy and subsequently postgraduate degrees in internal Medicine and in Cardiology. He continued his training at the Laboratory of Physiological Hygiene, Public Health School, University of Minnesota, USA and at the Department of Internal Medicine, Hammersmith Hospital/Royal Postgraduate School of Medicine, London, UK.

He then became professor of Applied Biochemistry and subsequently professor of Clinical Medicine at the University of Naples. He was appointed full professor of Medicine at the Federico II University Medical School in Naples in 1974, and chairman of the Department of Clinical and Experimental Medicine in 1982.

He has been the chairman of the Advisory Scientific Board of the World Heart Federation and is Emeritus Editor of the scientific journal Nutrition, Metabolism and Cardiovascular Disease, which he founded in 1990. He has published approximately 500 scientific papers on clinical nutrition and cardiovascular medicine.

From 2003 he is Emeritus Professor of Medicine in the University Federico II of Naples.

Office:

Dept. Clinical and Experimental Medicine, Federico II University, via Pansini,5 Napoli 80132 Italy
tel: +39 081 7462011 / fax +39 081 5466152

Home:

Via Belsito 13, Napoli 80123 Italy– tel: +39 081 5754512 / fax: +39 081 2483856

E-mail: mariomancini30@virgilio.it